

Angela Doyle joined the Advanced Manufacturing Growth Centre (AMGC) in 2018 as State Director - Western Australia.

Angela brings vast first-hand experience regarding the opportunities available to manufacturers willing to transform through the adoption of advanced characteristics.

Angela served as Business Adviser and Deputy Director of AusIndustry's Entrepreneurs' Programme, and its precursor, Enterprise Connect for nearly a decade. Through comprehensive business management analyses, she has helped over 150 companies improve their baseline operations. These firms have come from all corners of Western Australia covering the resources, engineering and advanced manufacturing sectors.

Previously, Angela spent 17 years in senior management positions at Issey Sunshade Systems, SIDS and Kids WA and Scitech Discovery Centre. Angela has a track record in leading change, overseeing continuous improvement processes, lifting management and employee capabilities and establishing procedures to enable sustainable long-term growth.

Angela believes that changes in technology have opened the world up to the many Australian companies with great ideas. Helping manufacturers transform through advanced processes, knowledge and business models, is part of her role at AMGC.

Biography

Angela has a fascination with technology trends and the disruptions they enable. She recently achieved a Certificate in Disruptive Strategy through Harvard Business School. She has an MBA from Curtin University of Technology and holds a Company Director accreditation through the Australian Institute of Company Directors.

For more information on AMGC:

www.amgc.org.au

For more information on Industry Growth Centres:

www.industry.gov.au/industrygrowthcentres